

Parrot Class Autumn 2023 Newsletter

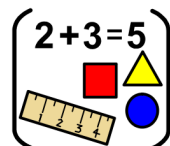

Theme: Movers and Shakers

Early English and Phonic Awareness

To begin with, Parrot class are going to be learning about fantasy worlds. We have a focus story which we will read daily and all work will be based on this book. For example, one day we may label the characters of the story and in another lesson we will use fine motor skills to colour in the characters. Following on from this we will be learning about recipes. This half term our Phonic Awareness will start to consider Rhythm and Rhyme aspects of sound as well as Alliteration.

Early Maths

During the first term, we will be revisiting our number work. Pupils will experience joining in with a range of number songs through interaction with objects and using symbols to fill in gaps. We will use Numicon. Following on from this we will then be developing our measuring skills through a range of practical activities. This is where we will link our learning to Early English as we follow a recipe to bake a cake.

Early Science

Pupils will consider how to keep themselves healthy both physically and mentally in Early Science. We will visit a range of areas from keeping clean to eating healthy.

Physical Development

The theme this term is 'Sing, Dance, Play'. Therefore, pupils will be learning dance moves to familiar rhymes by following simple instructions. We will continue to work on independence skills before and after the lesson.

Early PSHE

Early PSHE this term is around feelings. It is the perfect opportunity to support our pupils to identify the different emotions they feel and how best to portray them.

Early Computing

Early Computing is another lesson which will be linked to Early English. We will further explore our fantasy worlds focus story, and themes linked to it, using technology.

Discovery

Our focus in Discovery this half term is on nurses. We will be considering the most famous nurses and comparing previous healthcare to our current NHS.

Creative

In Creative lessons we will be creating our own portraits as we learn about Andy Warhol.

Other

Soft play and the Sensory room will be accessed weekly to provide opportunities for PPP targets to be completed and sensory diets fulfilled.

Hydrotherapy will be on Tuesday morning (kit will be required).

Parrot Class will also have a weekly session of Music Enrichment on Wednesday morning.